MENSTRUATION AND MENSTRUAL HEALTH AND MASTERCLASSES

MENSTRUATION, MENSTRUAL HEALTH AND MINDSET - MASTERCLASS 1H 30 MINS

Looking after our wellbeing when experiencing challenging symptoms relating to menstruation and menstrual health can be difficult. With so much stigma and taboo surrounding the topic, in particular at work, many people suffer in silence and just try to “get on with it”. This often means we place ourselves last, without time to explore the positive impact that mindset and self care can have. Having tools and approaches to help us understand and manage our mindset, in a way that is right for us, is a powerful tool.

This interactive session, delivered by Menstruation Friendly with Jo Lee-Morris, Head of Training and qualified coach and learning professional, offers time to reflect, understand and discover strategies for managing our mindset and practising self care that’s right for us as individuals, so that we can thrive.

In this session you will:

- Explore some of the mindset challenges we can experience when struggling with our menstrual health
- Discover where negative and intrusive thoughts come from and practical strategies to work with them
- Think about what we can and can’t control and reflect on how to use this alleviate overwhelm
- Explore and define the self care that’s right for you
- Share with others and gain useful ideas and insights from them.

MEN LET'S TALK ABOUT MENSTRUATION AND MENSTRUAL HEALTH - MALE ALLYSHIP IN ACTION - MASTERCLASS - 1H

Menstruation and menstrual health is still very much a taboo subject, in particular at work. As we've seen the conversation around menopause expand, more people are starting to explore how we can support people at all stages of their menstrual life. What is important is that men are a part of that conversation, as it indirectly impacts them as partners, colleagues and friends. A little awareness goes a long way, and we will share why it's more important than ever as part of being a good leader, teammate and human to listen and make a difference for those experiencing symptoms relating to menstruation or menstrual health conditions.

Delivered by Menstruation Friendly and Matt Balfour, founder of Let's Go Wellbeing (Mental Health First Aid · Employee Engagement · Employee Wellness · Workplace Coaching).

This session covers:

- What do we mean by menstrual health?
- How can menstruation, menstrual health conditions and their symptoms have an impact, especially at work?
- What can we do as men to be better informed about the impact of the menstruation and menstrual health?
- How we encourage men to be true allies
- How to have supportive conversations about menstruation and menstrual health
- What support is available in and outside the workplace
